JAIPURIA ALUMNI TESTIMONIALS

I have hazy memories from around 50 years ago. I remember classes in arts, craft, music, leather batik, science, elocution, debates, NCC camps, Republic Day and Independence Day parades and more. The social network of friends and teachers has had a huge impact on me. I am always proud to be a product of this institution!

RONO MUKHERJEE (Batch of 1975)
Sr. Partner Development Manager, Qlik, USA

I feel honored to express that a part of the credit for the person I have become today goes to this school. I was in this school for 12 years and I feel an imperishable emotional attachment to this school. My time inside this school and the journey following it have taught me many valuable lessons.

RAJEEV BAJAJ (Batch of 1976)
Consultant Advisor, Wyeland Capital

My journey as a Jaipurian started barely a few years after the school's founding. What was truly incredible about Jaipuria is that it was really a modern day gurukul that provided a complete, holistic, and well-rounded education from the liberal arts, to STEM, to visual arts and sports. It was not just a school. It was home.

DR UTTIYO RAYCHAUDHURI (Batch of 1976)
Vice Provost, Internationalism, University of Denver, USA

My motto has been to always be a learner and to explorer new avenues. The foundation of this belief was firmly laid at Seth Anandram Jaipuria School. This zeal for learning has seen me grow in several industries and sectors over the course of 28 years of professional life.

SAURABH GOEL (Batch of 1985)
Executive President, Havells India Ltd.

A bright scholar, I was good at oratory and creative writing. My skills and talents were honed at the school. What chiseled out from that raw, novice amateur is a well-known writer-director in the theatres and cinemas. I'm just so thankful for my years as SAJS.

VIJAY KRISHNA ACHARYA (Batch of 1985)
Director, Indian Films

I remember proudly delivering speeches at the Independence Day and the Republic Day celebrations every single year that I was in Jaipuria. Today, when I find joy in giving motivational speeches to corporate honchos, students and trainees, I know whom to thank.

Himanshu Rai (Batch of 1985)
Director, Indian Institute of Management, Indore

Jaipuria has always signified to me the virtues of persistence, perseverance and patience. These qualities have stayed with me and inspired me in my professional and personal life. The academic foundation I got, skills I developed and values I inculcated have made me a lifelong learner.

PULKIT TRIVEDI (Batch of 1992-93)
India Managing Director, Snapchat Inc.

My school is the reason for whatever I am in life today. I borrowed books to study in school, I now distribute books in schools to study. I was the class monitor for news reading in ninth standard. Today I have set highest standards in news media. Proud of my alma mater.

MANOGYA LOIWAL (Batch of 1997)
Anchor and Editor, ABP News

I had always wanted to go to Jaipuria, the school my brother and sister already studied in. I was mesmerized by how big this school was. I still remember those fun visits to stationary shop and canteen with friends. Amazing teachers, great peers and friends, and a steep learning curve.
